

DOSTAL PLANT GETS COAL MORE COMING

Out at the plant of the Dostal Products Co., they are breathing easier, with the receipt this morning of a carload of coal and promise of additional fuel receipts in a few days.

For several days, the Dostal plant saw a fuel famine rapidly growing nearer, and the industry was taking extraordinary steps to protect its patrons in the event the coal supply failed entirely. Today, according to Mr. Faflick, the plant was in a much more comfortable position and the uneasiness has disappeared.
